

Networking with THESIS friends gives you the opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences with like-minded people from over 70 academic disciplines.

	THESIS - The Interdisciplinary Network for PhD Candidates and Early Stage Researchers in Germany– is a widely recognized organization of PhD candidates, Postdocs and young academics in Germany. Our aim is to promote science and research throughout supporting the career development of young scientists. We provide peer support to master the scientific, logistic and personal challenges during the period of your doctorate and the following years of your career.
	Join our local groups in more than 20 cities all over Germany. Socialise with other PhD candidates or PostDocs, share your personal and academic experiences, discuss the milestones or the first draft of your thesis, and get praxis-relevant career tips and ideas. You can even prepare for your thesis defense with the support of your peers in the community.
	We invite you to participate in our monthly get-together (Stammtische) and the annual spring conference (THESIS Jahrestreffen), take part in our comprehensive seminar program on key issues for academics (e.g. project management, writing skills) and join our various social events. Please check our event list for upcoming activities in your area.
	Contact our Executive Director to find out more about us.
 www.eurodoc.net, Logo © eurodoc 2003-2014	In cooperation with Eurodoc - The European Council of Doctoral Candidates and Junior Researchers – we have extended our activities to the European level. THESIS is a founding member of Eurodoc. Eurodoc “aims to be the effective and efficient voice of doctoral candidates and junior researchers at the European level”. For further information about Eurodoc's objectives see their statement or contact our Eurodoc delegates.
 www.thesis.de Text: Nirmala Bähr, Lienhard Mack, Jana Meissner, Anna Tschaut, Maria Winter, THESIS e.V. THESIS Logos © THESIS e.V. 2014	THESIS e.V. is a registered non-profit association. It was founded in 1991. At present we have about 600 members from a large variety of academic disciplines. THESIS gives doctoral candidates a voice and widespread recognition in policy debates. It promotes “best practices” for PhD candidates and encourages higher education and research institutions to improve and continually evaluate their standards.

We are looking forward to meeting you. Your contribution is highly appreciated!

Enjoy social networking in real life, become a member of our THESIS network and promote our activities.